

surrealist virus chants dream journal entry 12.27.25 illness

creates and then consumes a planet within a planet an adult back in the womb a loop inside a chasm

some bait within a room a triangle with no edges a flower without bloom

a square inside a circle

my mind inside a tomb

a blood cell in the clouds which rides upon a broom a blind man sees the future a far cry echoes through a sliver in the sidewalk the gaps within a loom which sounds the chirp of bluebirds gazing from the moon
